Cost price of Iran s emergency communication base station

Overview

How much do sanctions cost Iran?

Sanctions impose steady economic loss on Iran and cost enforcing states under $500 million yearly, yet results unfold slowly and depend on multilateral compliance. Do stealth bombers guarantee mission success?

Why does the cost of bombing Iran matter?

Our data shows that debates on the cost of bombing Iran often fixate on headline weapon prices while overlooking deeper consequences. The topic matters because any large-scale strike would spill into regional conflict, global oil markets, and humanitarian fallout that far outlasts the first missile launch.

How much does a 30-day air campaign cost?

A mid-size 30-day air campaign that suppresses air defenses and targets nuclear infrastructure rises to roughly $25-$30 billion, driven by repeated munition drops, aerial refueling, and maintenance costs on high-tempo squadrons.
