How much subsidy is there for a photovoltaic panel installed on the roof

Overview

Public utility subsidies for buying or installing clean energy property are subtracted from qualified expenses. This is true whether the subsidy comes directly to you or to a contractor on your behalf.

You may claim the residential clean energy credit for improvements to your main home, whether you own or rent it. Your main home is generally where you live most of the time.

The Residential Clean Energy Credit equals 30% of the costs of new, qualified clean energy property for your home installed anytime.

Qualified expenses include the costs of new clean energy property including: 1. Solar electric panels 2. Solar water heaters 3. Wind.

The federal solar tax credit, commonly referred to as the investment tax credit or ITC, allows you to claim 30% of the cost of your solar panel system as a credit to your federal tax bill. Do solar panels qualify for a tax credit?

Under the new tax credit timeline, solar panel systems installed by December 31, 2025, will still qualify for the full 30% credit. But systems installed after that date wouldn't qualify for any tax credit at all. The federal solar tax credit is valuable because it's a dollar-for-dollar reduction of your federal tax bill.

Will solar panels be tax deductible in 2025?

In 2025, the federal Investment Tax Credit (ITC) allows homeowners to claim 30% of their solar panel system costs as a tax credit on their federal taxes. Starting January 1, 2026, the residential solar tax credit will disappear completely.

Are solar panels tax deductible?

Readers interested in installing solar products should use their best judgment and seek advice from a licensed tax professional. In 2025, the federal Investment Tax Credit (ITC) allows homeowners to claim 30% of their solar panel system costs as a tax credit on their federal taxes.

Can I claim a solar PV tax credit in 2021?

Yes. Generally, you can claim a tax credit on the expenses related to the new solar PV system that already came installed on the house for the year in which you moved into the house (assuming the builder did not claim the tax credit)—in other words, you may claim the credit in 2021.

Can I claim a tax credit on a solar installation?

Solar panels installed on houseboats, mobile homes, and condominiums can claim the federal tax credit if the borrower and the system meet all other eligibility requirements. Secondary residences like vacation homes can also qualify. Can I claim the tax credit on a DIY solar installation?

Are photovoltaic systems tax deductible?

Photovoltaic systems must provide electricity for the residence, and must meet applicable fire and electrical code requirements. The home served by the system does not have to be the taxpayer's principal residence. Find products that are eligible for this tax credit.
