Overview

Solar panels typically range in cost between ¥150,000 and ¥250,000 per kilowatt (kW), so for an average home with a 4kW system, the total installation costs fall somewhere between ¥600,000 to ¥1,000,000. Solar panel costs often comprise 40-50% of total installation expenses in Japan. How much do solar panels cost in Japan?

Are Japan's solar PV costs high?

Including these types of plants, the assertion that Japan's solar PV costs are high may simply be an overstatement of the country's solar PV generation costs. To the contrary, the efficient scenario may in fact be closer to the real economic performance of Japan's solar PV.

How long will a solar PV power plant operate in Japan?

In the case of a 30-year operating period, a solar PV power plant which commenced operation in 2030 will operate until 2059. At this time, it is likely that the scale of solar PV generation in Japan will be significantly larger. In this situation, it is possible that a frequent oversupply of electricity will occur during daytime hours.

Is solar PV the cheapest option?

This is meaningful as it indicates that solar PV would be the cheapest option among newly constructed power plants. However, the Generation Cost Verification Working Group (2015) estimates the 2030 generation cost of solar PV (mega solar) at 12.7-15.6 yen/kWh.

Does Japan have a solar market?

The Latest Insights! Japan has seen significant solar market expansion over the years.

How much does installation cost in Japan?

Average costs for professional installation range from ¥100,000 to ¥300,000, depending on the complexity of the installation and the size of the system. While it is possible to opt for do-it-yourself installation, it is generally not recommended in Japan.
