Thinking about going solar?

Learn the best time to install solar panels on your roof and whether you should replace your roof first before buying.

Putting new solar panels on an old roof can lead to headaches later on once your roof needs to be replaced, but how old is too old to go solar?

Simply put, you can't replace a roof while it has solar panels on it. So, when a home with roof-mounted solar panels needs a new roof, the solar.

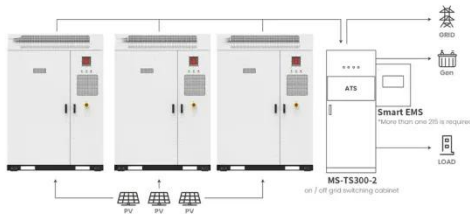

It's understandable if the added costs we've talked about have you rethinking solar panels, but it's important to keep things in perspective and do the math to figure out what's right for you and your finances. All roofs wear out eventually, so you do have the.

We've established that the best time to install a solar energy system is shortly after you have a new roof, but what if you're not due for a new roof anytime soon?

Where's the.

Yes—it's possible, but it depends on the roof's structural condition. While age isn't always the issue, a roof with visible damage, leaks, or deteriorating materials can pose a risk to both the installation and the longevity of the solar system.
