How does a sun chaser GPS work?

My Sun Chaser GPS reference station uses a 10-W solar panel connected to a 12-V battery to provide enough power. To increase the energy harvesting, the solar panel is mounted on a rotating disc that can be controlled by a DC motor to point in the desired direction. A stepper motor controls the solar panel's "tilting."

Is the Sunchaser 8 a good solar tracker?

This is not one of the toys that hold a few panels and disappear in the first bad weather event. The Sunchaser 8 is a genuine commercial product, and has been installed in major solar generation farms around the world. Most solar trackers of this size need to have a crane on site to complete installation.

How does the Sun chaser work?

Photo 1: The Sun Chaser's stepper motor controls the solar panel's "tilting." "The Sun Chaser perfectly follows the sun's path and keeps the battery fully charged when there's enough sunlight," Brandsma says in his article about the project, which appears in Circuit Cellar 's June issue.

What is Hsat - daychase by Sunchaser structures?

The HSAT - DayChase by Sunchaser Structures is an advanced solar tracking system designed to maximize energy generation by following the sun's path throughout the day. With precision engineering, high wind resistance, and optimized tracking algorithms, DayChase ensures higher efficiency and long-term reliability Technical Data Sheet.
