Vanuatu Independent Energy Storage Power Station

Overview

Does Vanuatu have a low electricity access rate?

Vanuatu currently has one of the lowest electricity access rates in the world. Under the RESSET project, New Zealand will serve as the lead donor, providing the majority of funding for the installation of solar arrays and battery storage systems on Efate, near Port Vila, and the island of Tanna.

Will solar power boost Vanuatu's energy independence and climate resilience?

The project aims to support the use of solar power and battery storage on the islands of Efate and Tanna, boosting Vanuatu's energy independence and climate resilience. New Zealand's Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Foreign Affairs, Winston Peters, confirmed the country's commitment during a press conference held in Port Vila on Wednesday.

Does Vanuatu have a Power Cooperative?

Throughout the first year of operation, the local energy service company will provide free maintenance and train members of the local communities to operate and maintain the power station. "This is the first-ever power cooperative for Vanuatu's last mile communities.

Does Vanuatu need electricity?

This initiative responds directly to Vanuatu's national climate goals and energy needs by improving access to clean and reliable electricity. Vanuatu currently has one of the lowest electricity access rates in the world.

Will Wintua's secondary school reduce its electricity costs?

For John Sawyer, the principal of Wintua's Secondary School, which is home to 121 students, one of the main benefits will be that the school will be able to drastically reduce its electricity costs. "We used to have to spend around US$10,000 per year on fuel for the school," he said.
